Gender pay gap

In the UK, Godolphin is required by the Equality Act (Gender Pay Gap Information) Regulations 2017 to publish a set of statistics around pay and gender.

What is the gender pay gap?

The gender pay gap looks at the percentage difference between men's and women's earnings. It is not a measure of the difference in pay between men and women for doing the same job, which is usually described as 'pay equality'.

Godolphin's statistics are as follows:

Difference between gross hourly earnings of men and women

	2018	2019
Mean	1.97% higher for women	0.82% higher for women
Median	3.44% higher for women	6.27% higher for women

Mean – the average number when all numbers are added together and then divided

Median – the middle number when taking all numbers into account
